DUCTWORK MANUFACTURE

Ductwork Manufactured to Suit Your Project

We provide manufactured ductwork sections and components to meet specific project requirements.

Accurate manufacture is essential to achieving an efficient installation, particularly where ductwork needs to integrate with existing equipment, plant, machinery or building layouts.

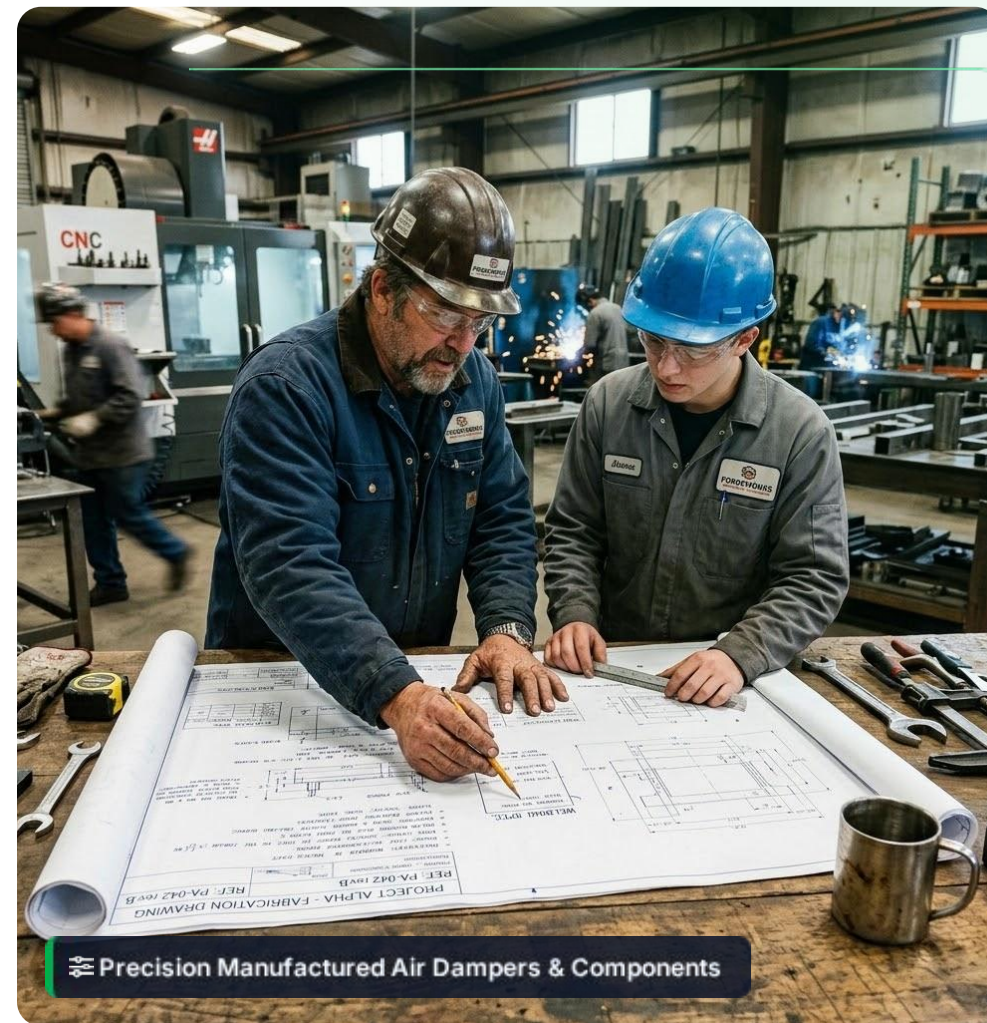

We work from project requirements and drawings to provide ductwork suited to its intended application and installation environment.

Attention is given to accuracy, fit and quality throughout the process, helping to ensure components are ready for efficient installation once they arrive on site.

Whether ductwork is required as part of a complete D.D.L installation or supplied directly for another project, we can provide a practical solution around the job.

ALTERATIONS, REPLACEMENTS & PROJECT SUPPORT

Ductwork Alterations & Modifications

Existing ductwork systems do not always remain suitable throughout the lifetime of a building. Changes to layouts, equipment, production areas or building use can all result in existing ductwork needing to be altered or rerouted. D.D.L Ductwork Ltd can modify existing installations to accommodate these changes while working around the conditions and restrictions of the site.

Replacement Works

Where ductwork has become damaged, deteriorated or unsuitable, replacement may provide the most practical solution. We can remove and replace individual sections or carry out more extensive replacement works depending on the condition and requirements of the system. Our aim is to provide a durable and professional replacement while minimising unnecessary disruption.

Project Support

We work alongside contractors, site managers and other trades to coordinate our work with the wider programme. Our team takes a practical approach to solving challenges on site and works to deliver solutions that meet both the technical and operational requirements of the project.
